

Procurement Services

A consolidated source for reproductive health supplies

Reliable procurement expertise

For over 40 years, UNFPA has partnered with the developing world to procure quality contraceptives and reproductive health supplies.

Through UNFPA Procurement Services, governments and NGOs can access UNFPA's knowledge and purchasing capacity so that they can make the best use of their own financial resources and donor funds to procure RH supplies. The service is built on partnerships and is not-for-profit.

Whether working with reproductive and sexual health, family planning, humanitarian response or census, UNFPA delivers quality supplies in a cost effective and reliable way.

Quality, value, choice

UNFPA is committed to procuring quality products and therefore evaluates and prequalifies suppliers based on internationally recognized quality standards before entering into any contractual agreements.

By conducting international competitive bidding following public procurement principles, UNFPA creates long term supplier agreements for a wide variety of reproductive health supplies.

UNFPA's significant procurement volumes enable us to obtain competitive pricing. We pass this value on to our partners.

In a recent competitive price analysis, UNFPA prices were 8-34% lower than the average price for key commodities from international procurers.

Improving efficiency of procurement

UNFPA Procurement Services makes your ordering process as smooth as possible. Browse the extensive UNFPA Catalog of quality assured products and prices.

Use the online procurement planning tools, such as the Budget Planner to estimate costs and the Lead Time Calculator to estimate how long it will take for your order to arrive.

Step-by-step guides and all necessary documents are available on the website.
