

ERP assessed reproductive health medicines available for procurement

List last updated 25 April 2014

The ERP assesses the potential risks/benefits associated with the use of the medicines submitted and advises UNFPA on its decision on whether to procure these products. There are 4 different category risk ratings, where the first two, i.e. 1 and 2, are translated into non objection for procurement and the last two, 3 and 4, imply an objection for procurement. In the case of category 3 rating, procurement might be enabled in cases where the risk of no procurement outweighs the risk of procurement, as determined by the procurer.

The ERP risk rating of 1 or 2 for a reproductive health (RH) medicine translates into an ERP no-objection for procurement valid for 18 months; this means that the RH medicine can be supplied for this period. In certain cases, procurement period might be extended for 12 additional months after reassessment of a new submission of the product. The table below includes all the RH medicines comprised under risk category 1 and 2, and hence considered as an option for procurement.

Note: In case a client requires any other product that does not appear on this list please contact UNFPA at QA@unfpa.dk so all the options for procurement can be considered depending on the situation.
